

Leila Arboretum Society was formed in 1982 to foster the revitalization and development of the arboretum. Today the arboretum with more than 2,000 species of trees and shrubs, many beautiful gardens, inspiring sculptures and fountains is once again a “jewel” in our community. It is host to many special events, from weddings to concerts, but is enjoyed most often simply for its natural beauty and serenity by those just out for a nature stroll. Leila Arboretum is Battle Creek’s favorite green space and an essential feature of its downtown vitality.

The society provides stewardship of 85 acres including a unique Children’s Garden. This garden is an educational, interactive, hands-on, fun-filled attraction for both the young and the young-at-heart.

The mission of LAS is to preserve and enhance Leila Arboretum for all to appreciate horticulture and the arts in a natural environment. We are located at 928 W. Michigan Ave, Battle Creek, MI 49037

Kingman Museum’s roots go deep into our community’s past. The first collections were acquired during the civil war and became part of the Battle Creek Public School system, and most likely, one of the first museums to be owned and operated by a public school system.

Today Kingman Museum has a world class collection of natural history specimens, new exhibitions and a state-of-the-art planetarium system. We have a small staff supported by over 250 active volunteers who serve as board members, help us to meet our building and ground maintenance needs, deliver educational programs, provide office support and collections care, and more, donating over 6,000 hours of service annually.

Our mission is to provide lifelong learning opportunities in natural history, the universe, and world cultures for all ages, for all time. We are located at 175 Limit St., Battle Creek, MI 49037.

Kingman Museum and Leila Arboretum are strategic allies, working together to provide a fun and educational destination for Battle Creek and the entire region. Please team with us today by considering a JOINT membership. Thank you in advance for your support! Kingman Museum Inc. and Leila Arboretum Society are 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations.
